World looking at Bharat for compassion, relief

Tamil Nadu Governor delivers Golden Jubilee Endowment Lecture: 12 at JSS Mahavidyapeetha

Mysuru, Feb. 4 (PM&BCT)- Tamil Nadu Governor Thiru R.N. Ravi said that the world is looking at Bharat for comfort, compassion and relief. "At a time when the world is divided and suffering from climate change, pandemic and economic downturn, countries are looking at India to raise and fight for their cause. Bharat has become a voice for the voiceless in the international community in the wake of the world facing an existential crisis," he said.

He was delivering the Golden Jubilee Endowment Lecture: 12 organised by JSS Mahavidyapeetha at the packed Sri Rajendra Centenary Auditorium, JSS Hospital premises this morning. His topic was "Leadership of G-20: Opportunities for Bharat." The TN Governor delivered the lecture in the presence of Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji.

TN Governor Thiru R.N. Ravi delivering the Golden Jubilee Endowment Lecture at Sri Rajendra Centenary Auditorium in city this morning.

"Today human society is divided due to visible and invisible threats like war, pandemic, climate change, soil erosion and global warming. Look at the way we are replenishing the health of the soil. Bharat is showing the way. We took a stand on war and told the world that no war is a good war. India was the first country that repudiated the Russia-Ukraine war," he said.

A word of praise for JSS

I compliment the JSS Mahavidyapeetha for yeoman service to Bharat. At a time when the British left India after destroying Bharat, its vast geography, its resources, economy, culture, education and spirituality, Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Swamiji thought of establishing JSS Mahavidyapeetha to provide education, food, accommodation and spiritual training to young minds so that they can be the future of Bharat," said Tamil Nadu Governor R.N. Ravi.

Slamming the people in responsible positions quoting 'British government' for India's development, the TN Governor said, "People of Bharat should take pride in their own heritage and should mentally free themselves from the influence of colonial rule and they need total decolonisation of their minds."

"It is pitiful and sad to see people who are in responsible positions still quoting that without the British government, there would not have been development in our country. We must take pride in our heritage, our culture, and spirituality," he said. Interestingly, Governor R.N. Ravi used the word Bharat to name the country avoiding the word India which was used only once.

Civil engineers must focus on heritage conservation: S. Subbaraman, Padma Shri Awardee

Retired Superintending Archaeological Chemist stresses on preserving two heritage buildings – Lansdowne and Devaraja Market in city

S. Subbaraman speaks at MBCT auditorium in city this morning

Mysuru, Feb. 4 (BS)- S. Subbaraman, well-known Archaeological Chemist, said that 'more and more civil engineers should focus on conservation of heritage.' Subbaraman, who is one among eight persons from the State selected for Padma Awards, addressed a gathering of civil engineers, after being felicitated on the second day of the two-day National Seminar on 'Innovative Infra in Civil Engineering' organised by Association of Consulting Civil Engineers-India (ACCE-I), Mysore Centre, at Mysore Builders Charitable Trust (MBCT) premises in city this morning.

Subbaraman, who retired as Superintending Archaeological Chemist, Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) and resides in Mysuru, referred to the need to preserve two heritage buildings (Lansdowne opposite City Bus Stand and Devaraja Market on Sayyaji Rao Road) in Mysuru city and the need of qualified engineers in the conservation of these two buildings.

Recalling his works involving the conservation of murals and paintings at Ajanta Caves in Maharashtra, Angkor Wat temple complex in Cambodia, Chola and Nayaka era paintings at Brihadeeshwar Temple in Tanjore, Tamil Nadu and Buddhas of Bamiyan (the two big statues in Afghanistan), Subbaraman left the gathering in splits of laughter, as he began with a one-liner 'My Career Lay in Monuments, Not in Ruins.'

"I went to Ajanta in February 1955 and as I walked on the winding pathway, my heart skipped the beat as it was a lovely sight,' he said.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

I recently went on a vacation to Spain with my wife. Successful vacations are characterised by fond memories that you carry back home. For me, the most significant memory, by a wide margin, is that of QR codes!

As is common and the norm in today's world of vacation travel, innumerable bookings have to be completed before you step out of your home. Flights, local trains and buses in various cities, hotel bookings, and timed entrance tickets to various museums and sights are just a few of the many reservations that have to be completed — and each of them gifts you with a QR code. Since I was forbidden at home from printing any of these, in the interest of saving the planet, I had to store all details on my smart phone, a recipe for disaster.

At the point of entry to various tourist sites, I was struggling to fetch the correct QR code by going to a plethora of websites before hitting the correct one to retrieve the ticket, all the while battling a shaky internet connection. The novice that I was in these matters, I did not realise that one could download the said codes and store them locally on their smart phone. And even after miraculously finding the relevant QR code, holding my phone at the correct distance and angle for the machine to read and approve my credentials turned out to be a nightmare. Needless to say, I was holding up everyone behind me as I fumbled around with my phone.

The pervasiveness of the QR code was vividly in evidence when I went to a restaurant and asked for the menu. I was promptly asked to scan a QR code to look up the menu, and having forgotten to carry my phone to the restaurant, I had to make a quick exit or risk ordering the most expensive item suggested by the waiter.

I came back from my vacation partly in awe and partly rattled by the advances in technology that made me nostalgically look back on the days when my "vacation" consisted of cycling to the neighbouring village.

Fire-painted portraits of Alex Peter Idoko

Lagos: Alex Peter Idoko, a Nigerian artist, uses fire, razor-blades and sandpaper to create stunningly-realistic portraits that look more like sepia-toned photos.

Pyrography, or painting with fire, is an intriguing art form that involves the decoration of a wooden canvas with burn marks resulting from a controlled flame or heated instrument, like a poker. 31-year-old Alex Peter Idoko has been passionate about portrait art since childhood. He practiced in graphite, charcoal, and pastel for a long time, but he ultimately gravitated to pyrography because of its powerful visual effect.

Bird owner gets jail term after it injures passerby

Tainan: A man was sentenced to two months in jail and fined 3.04 million New Taiwan dollars after his pet macaw allegedly caused a jogger to hurt himself.

The incident reportedly took place in Tainan, when a man surnamed Huang took his two pet macaws for a flight in a local park where people often go to exercise. One of the birds allegedly landed on the back of a jogger and started flapping its wings vigorously, causing him to fall. The nasty fall caused the man to dislocate his hip joint and fracture his pelvis, which required hospitalisation and a long recovery period. He ended up suing the bird owner for damages.

The victim, known as Dr. Lin, told the Court that he spent a week in the hospital and was unable to work for more than half a year. As a plastic surgeon, he needed to spend a lot of time on his feet conducting various procedures, so the injuries caused him serious financial losses.

Innovative Precast Multi-level Parking: Some suggestions to MCC

Sir,

Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has proposed innovative Precast Multi-level Parking lot near KSRTC Sub-urban bus stand in the city. As a concerned citizen, I suggest MCC to efficiently build and operate the multi-level parking facility in Central Business District (CBD).

MCC should initiate PPP model to run the said facility, rather than spending from its exchequer. The particular model will reduce incurring loses while in construction period due to delays, additional variations due to inflation, poor quality of construction with poor amenities, parking mafia post construction, harassment of customers and mainly avoiding corruption at all levels for the next 25 years.

MCC should lease the land to experienced vendor to develop and run the parking lot complex for 25 years. Post contract, the infrastructure should be handed back to MCC. The vendor registration process should be very stringent.

The technical guidelines related to construction, civic amenities (like passenger elevator, escalator, washrooms) and civil defense guidelines, should be floated from MCC prior to the contract to make the vendor act in compliance. Any failure to adhering to norms will result in termination of contract.

It should not only be limited to parking lot. Since it is on main road and considering influx of tourists to Mysuru, it can have a kiosk for Police, Tourism Info Centre, basic amenities for visitors, Prepaid taxi office, ATMs and Tour Operator kiosk.

Metal angles stolen from 240 electric poles on Expressway

Restoration, brazing works begin to prevent thefts

CESC forms Task Force to coordinate with NHAI on all electricity-related issues

Mysuru, Feb. 4 (Vinay Karekura & BCT)- The National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) has finally begun the task of restoring electricity poles that were vandalised on the 10-lane Access-Controlled Expressway between Mysuru and Bengaluru (NH-275). The works began last evening.

This comes after two reports in Star of Mysore — first dated January 30 titled '25-ft. tall electric poles sway dangerously as thieves steal horizontal metal bars' highlighting how thieves have stolen over 240 stainless-steel angles (metal bars) fixed on the electric poles and second dated Feb. 3 on the visit of a team of Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation (CESC) led by its Managing Director Jayavibhavaswamy — 'Metal angles stolen from 240 electric poles: CESC asks NHAI to ensure public safety on Expressway'.

Even the Mandya District In-Charge Secretary Jayaram Swaroop has instructed the NHAI to rectify the stolen angles according to the technical guidance and specifications of CESC and make it safe for the public before handing over the electrical properties for maintenance.

Starting last evening, the NHAI workers, contractors and officers have begun rectifying the poles. New angles are being fixed on poles that are at the height of 60 ft. where over 30 ft. of metal angles have been stolen from the Srirangapatna stretch to Ramanagara on NH-275. Workers were seen welding the metal angles and after welding, even brazing is being done, making it impossible for thieves to steal.

Expressing happiness over the NHAI's immediate rectifying measures, Superintending Engineer (Mandya Circle) Krishnamurthy told Star of Mysore that the issue is getting resolved thanks to media attention and also the NHAI's prompt response.

"Our main intention is to ensure public welfare and public safety. The NHAI has begun the work at eight to nine places in Srirangapatna. If the NHAI had delayed the matter, it would have been unsafe to travel on the beautifully built road. In fact, the NHAI must lodge a Police complaint regarding the theft," he added.

CESC MD Jayavibhavaswamy has formed a Task Force and has named Krishnamurthy as the head to coordinate with the NHAI regarding all power-related aspects of the Highway. "The intention of the Task Force is speedy redressal of the issues and eliminating hierarchies with a single point of contact. There will be direct communication between the NHAI and the CESC through the Task Force and speedy decisions will be taken," Krishnamurthy said.

The GST tax on cigarettes is comparatively less than one per cent and there is no revenue loss for cigarette companies. Therefore, there will be no difference in the selling price of cigarettes, said the officials of the Karnataka Retail Sellers Association. Officials of the association have assured consumers that there will be no increase in the price of cigarettes as reported in some media.

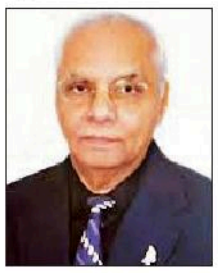
Former IB Officer R.N. Kulkarni murder case

Delay, Delayed...

It has been three months since R.N. Kulkarni was murdered on Nov. 4, 2022. The Police have still not filed a charge-sheet. That apart, the reason that led to the murder — illegal construction — still has not been demolished. Is this not proof that our system is broken?



R.N. Kulkarni was a former Intelligence Bureau (IB) Officer who had escaped two attempts on his life while serving this nation. Sadly, no Government official was there to pay the last respects on the day he was cremated. Oh! How callous our system has become.

The fear now for most Mysureans should be this — has the inaction by the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) and the delay in Courts emboldened the thugs in our society?

This question is important because as the real estate value in Mysuru keeps increasing and as more and more builders start construction in the city, the Bengaluru land mafia will land up in Mysuru sooner than later. This means Mysureans will need the MCC, the Police and the Courts to wield their power else we are in trouble.

Thankfully, the new City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth seems strong enough to wield the Police power. We saw this recently when he brought all the rowdy-sheeters to the Police Station for a roll-call, including a few powerful politicians. Such acts give the public confidence.

Yesterday, it was reported that the City Court had adjourned the hearing on the issue of vacating the stay order on the demolition of the illegal structure that led to Kulkarni's murder. The MCC lawyer didn't show up in the Court. Looks like this delay might continue.

Kulkarni had first filed a complaint about the illegal construction by his neighbour to the Assistant Commissioner of the MCC Zone-3 on 18.12.2021. There was no response.

Since the illegal construction continued as MCC had not taken any action, Kulkarni wrote to the MCC Commissioner on 11.2.2022. There was no response again.

The illegal construction continued. So, Kulkarni went to the City Law Courts. Nothing happened.

He then went to the High Court with the prayer that the MCC Commissioner be directed to take action as per law, on his complaint. This case was posted on 3.11.2022, but Kulkarni was killed on the evening of 4.11.2022.

Eight days after this murder, the MCC set a deadline of Nov. 12 to demolish the illegal structure. But it didn't. Why? Because of the holidays!

On the 13th, the MCC Commissioner said, "Tomorrow (Nov. 14), the jurisdictional Revenue Officer of the MCC will personally visit the spot at Sharadadevinagar and issue an ultimatum to Madappa and his family members to remove the doors of the unauthorised portion of the building and demolish it by Tuesday."

He added, "If Madappa fails to pay heed even to the ultimatum, then the MCC will waste no time and spring into action on Wednesday and demolish the full portion of the unauthorised structure, which is in violation of the MCC's building bylaws."

On the 14th, the next day, nothing happened. When asked by the media, the Development Officer of MCC Zone-3, under which jurisdiction Kulkarni's house comes, said that the demolition as per the marking would be done either tomorrow (Nov.15) or the day after (Nov. 16).

He confidently added, "All necessary preparations have been made, including keeping ready the machineries and other equipment needed for demolition."

It has been exactly three months since Kulkarni died and the MCC has not touched a single brick on the illegal structure! Meanwhile, Kulkarni's wife has left the house, fearing for her life and moved into an old-age home.

Our leaders and officers have lost all sense of empathy, shame, guilt and kindness, the emotions that make us human and humane. They seem to have lost these traits, the swirl of a system that selectively follows the due process of law.

No wonder this lack of justice has allowed local rowdies and mafia to run parallel courts. Today, most cases in Mysuru, be it an accident or land dispute, are settled by the rowdy elements. The reason is that it's quick and, to some extent, even judicious.

While we wonder about the demolition of the illegal structure, we also wonder when Kulkarni's murderers will be brought to justice.

This delay reminds us of what former Union Minister, the late Arun Jaitley, said in 2002. He said, "if you commit a crime in India, there is 93.5 percent chance — if it is heinous — that you will get away with it." Shocking indeed. Even more shocking is that he said this when he was the country's Law Minister! So, will Kulkarni's killers get out scot-free?! I do not know.

It is an old strategy. The more a case is delayed, the more chances of interference. The more interferences, the weaker the case becomes. Weaker the evidence, further the case is delayed. The further it is delayed, the further away chances of conviction.

Former Chief Justice of India (CJI) T.S. Thakur said, "As long as the judiciary exists, people have nothing to fear." He is wrong. As long as straightforward cases like Kulkarni's murder keep getting adjourned and charge-sheet filing is delayed, we have much to fear.

Implementation of the law and justice delivery system has been stalled. But the fault is not in our laws. It is the flaw in our character.

India's top lawyer Ram Jethmalani rightly said, "In any case, you cannot improve character by law. The legal system can play some part in improving character, but basically, you need character to run a legal system."

Unfortunately, we have a first-rate nation, second-rate laws and third-rate character. If this continues, we will end up with an nth-rated society.

The outcome of R.N. Kulkarni's cases, both the demolition and murder, will set the tone for what will become of Mysuru city — will it become a chaotic city like Bengaluru where the land mafia calls the shots or will it remain a decent city that has culture, a sense of heritage and a feeling of safety. Let's hope it's the latter.

Civil engineers must focus on heritage conservation

"Ajanta is described as the acme of Art in India, as it depicts the Jataka story. The early life of Buddha, with entire gamut of human emotions have been beautifully depicted. The figures have three dimensional (3D) effect. It was indeed a prestigious challenge to work on those paintings," reminisced the 94-year-old Subbaraman. But the credit of making first attempt towards conservation of paintings here (Ajanta) goes to Nizam of Hyderabad, he said. At Bamiyan in Afghanistan, we worked on two Buddha statues, from 1969 to 1977, visiting the site for four months every year due to cold weather. They were later handed back to then Afghanistan Government by the then External Affairs Minister of India Atal Bihari Vajpayee (who later served as Prime Minister of India).

"I still remember the very first sentence of Vajpayee — Bamiyan Aakar Hamaara Afghan Yatra To Teerth Yatra Ban Gaya (After coming to Bamiyan, our tour to Afghanistan turned into a pilgrimage). However, the same statues were brought down by Taliban in 2001," rued Subbaraman.

ACCE(I) Mysore Centre Chairman H.S. Deepak, ACCE(I) Honorary Secretary S. Shashiraj, RACE-23 Chairman and Professor, Department of Civil Engineering, Sri Jayachamarajendra College of Engineering, Mysuru, Dr. G.P. Chandradhara, RACE-23 Hon. Secretary Dr. P. Nanjundaswamy and others were present.

World looking at Bharat for relief

"We are friends with Russia, the United States and European countries. Still, we took a stand that ultimately benefited India. Also, at a time when the devastating COVID-19 pandemic hit the world, none of the countries nor their scientific communities had any clue about fighting the disease. Many developed countries invented the vaccines and they began hoarding them more than what is required for their needs. The remaining and the excess vaccines, they sold at much higher prices as they saw it an opportunity to make money for their pharma companies," TN Governor Ravi noted.

"Thanks to Indian scientists who invented the vaccines, India could give the vaccines to 120 countries free of cost. We did not see the vaccines as the opportunity to hoard and make money but we served the cause of humanity," he said.

"When the Chinese loans were all set to threaten the sovereignty and integrity of Sri Lanka, it was India that assisted that country with five-billion dollars. This money was used to build hospitals, schools, roads and helped the Lankans improve their standard of living," Ravi said.

"One must remember that Bharat, unlike Western countries, was not a product of any king or a conquest but of a civilisational and cultural evolution that happened over thousands of years," he said and added, "This year India is the Chair of G-20. It is an opportunity for us to cement our global ties especially with the civil societies in various countries. It is also an opportunity to showcase Brand India to the world."

"We know how significant are the roles of G-20 Countries, with 85% of the global GDP, in shaping the course of the global future. Today, member countries and indeed the world have ever greater expectations from India for showing the way into the future. Our Prime Minister Narendra Modi, like all the Government of India schemes and programmes, has made the G-20 Presidency also into a people's movement," he opined.

"Under the dynamic and visionary leadership of Modi, a new India is taking birth — a confident and capable India, an increasingly self-reliant India, an India proud of her glorious heritage and conscious of her destiny to be the World Leader by 2047, an India committed to Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam," he said.

Mekedatu dispute between Karnataka - TN in Court unwarranted: Law Minister

Mysuru, Feb.4 (RKB&BS)- Minister for Law and Parliamentary Affairs and Minor Irrigation, J. C. Madhu Swamy has asserted that 'Inter-State water dispute between Karnataka and Tamil Nadu over Mekedatu (Multi-purpose Balancing Reservoir Project) in Ramanagar district, is not a fit subject that has been drawn to Court by TN Government. Some people with vested interests foment disputes and hence such issues remain unsolved.'

Madhu Swamy addressed the gathering during a talk on 'Law Governing Inter-State Border and Water Disputes', organised by Karnataka Institute for Law and Parliamentary Reform, Bengaluru, in collaboration with Vidya Vikas Educational Trust (VVET), Vidya Vikas Institute of Legal Studies, Mysuru, at Lalitha Smaraka Bhavana at VVET campus on Bannur Road today.

Referring to several water disputes related to Karnataka, Minister Madhu Swamy regretted that 'Such is the feeling that we have become Atithi Devo Bhava (Guests are Like God). Such disputes should be discussed at national-level within the ambit of law. Moreover, there is a lack of leadership at the Centre, who can vouch upon solving the disputes.'

On the long drawn Cauvery river water dispute between Karnataka and Tamil Nadu, Law Minister said, "It is only due to an undertaking given in writing during the construction of Kannambadi Katte (Krishnaraja Sagar Dam) over river Cauvery in Mandya, to release water to Mettur Dam in Tamil Nadu, during the British rule, the dispute prolongs, with even the verdict of Cauvery Water Disputes Tribunal (CWDT) not in our favour. However, in the later years we failed to develop command areas to strengthen irrigation activities."

Law Minister J. C. Madhu Swamy flanked by former Chief Minister Dr. M. Veerappa Moily and former Advocate General Uday Holla seen watering a sapling to inaugurate a programme at Vidya Vikas Educational Trust (VVET) premises in city this morning as VVET Secretary V. Kaveesh Gowda, Director of Karnataka Institute for Law and Parliamentary Reform, Bengaluru, K. Dwaraknath Babu, former MLA Vasu and former VC of Karnataka State Law University Prof. P. Ishwara Bhat look on.

Whenever there is a mention of water disputes, we prefer to have a laidback approach with our hands tied up, he lamented.

Similar is our approach towards inter-State border disputes involving Karnataka, Maharashtra and other States. Even though we accepted the recommendations of Mahajan Commission over the border dispute (between Karnataka and Maharashtra) half-heartedly, Maharashtra is opposing it. If we accede to the demands of creating separate States on the basis of languages, a situation may arise one day, when we will be left with Old Mysore region only, said Madhu Swamy.

Former Chief Minister Dr. M. Veerappa Moily said, "The Central Government should have given its consent to Mekedatu project, that is now before the Court. Even Cauvery dispute is a 100-year-old issue." Strongly advocating that the Centre should resolve such disputes at its level, without letting them go till Court, Moily said "More seminars and discussions should be organised to deliberate on such issues."

Director of Karnataka Institute for Law and Parliamentary Reform, Bengaluru, K. Dwaraknath Babu, Chairman of VVET and former MLA Vasu, Secretary of VVET V. Kaveesh Gowda, former VC of Karnataka State Law University Prof. P. Ishwara Bhat, former Advocate General Uday Holla and others were present.

Fate of Mysuru-Sindhudurg flight hinges on Feb. 5 ticket bookings

Inaugural Feb. 1 flight cancelled as not a single ticket was booked

Mysuru, Feb. 4 (MTY&BCT)- The fate of Alliance Air flight between Mysuru and Sindhudurg in Maharashtra hinges on the occupancy of Sunday (Feb. 5). Not a single ticket was booked for the inaugural flight from either of the directions on Wednesday (Feb.1) and as such, the inaugural flight was cancelled.

Airport sources told Star of Mysore that only two or three tickets have been booked from Mysuru to Sindhudurg for the Feb. 5 flight.

"People of Mysuru are not at all familiar with Sindhudurg and Mysuru is in no way connected with that place in Maharashtra. We have conveyed the sentiments of Mysureans to Alliance Air. If there are no encouraging bookings for the Feb. 5 flight, that too will be cancelled and the ticket money will be refunded," Airport authorities said.

The Mysuru-Sindhudurg flight is scheduled to be operated on Wednesdays and Sundays and will leave Hyderabad at 2 pm to reach Mysuru at 4 pm. From Mysuru, it will reach Sindhudurg at 5.30 pm. In the return direction, the plane will leave Sindhudurg at 6 pm and reach Mysuru at 7.30 pm and proceed towards Hyderabad on the same day.

Soon after the announcement of the Mysuru-Sindhudurg flight, the travel and tourism stakeholders in Mysuru said that the flight served no purpose. They instead demanded an additional flight to Goa and new flights to Kochi, Coimbatore, Tirupati and Shirdi to boost those sectors.

The Mysuru-Sindhudurg-Hyderabad flight could be converted to Mysuru-Kochi-Hyderabad flight and this makes more sense and the route has the potential, they reasoned.

Stakeholders said that the Alliance Air's flight from Hyderabad reaches Mysuru and takes off to Goa. Given the high demand for Goa travel, it is difficult to get bookings.

"Despite huge demand and 100 percent occupancies from both sides, this daily Goa flight was reduced to five days a week and Sindhudurg was accommodated in the flight schedule twice a week. Why this was done is best known to the Airport authorities," the stakeholders said.

Catholic Christians to take out Peace Rally on Sunday

Mysuru, Feb.4 (MTY&DM)- Strongly opposing the false propaganda by some through social media and other platforms, the Mysore Catholic Christian Association under the banner of Mysore Diocesan Laity Voice, will take out a silent procession in the city at 3 pm tomorrow (Feb.5).

Announcing this at a press meet here yesterday, community leader Mathew Suresh of 'Janadhwani' said that for three years, the Catholic Christian community has gone through trauma and turbulence due to false and fabricated content through social media. Alleging that the image of the Church is being distorted through social media, he said that this is nothing but an evil act by some disgruntled elements aimed at disturbing Catholic Christian faith.

The Peace Rally will commence from St. Philomena's Church premises to 'Sanmaargi', the new Bishop House in Bannimantap, where a memorandum will be submitted to the Administrator, he said adding that those who do not have minimum faith and responsibility were targeting the Church, which is unfortunate.

Community members Premanand D'Mello, Emily, John W. D'Souza, James and A. Xavier were present at the press meet.

Congress stages protest demanding immediate election for MCC Standing Committees Heads

Mysuru, Feb.4 (SBD&DM)- Strongly condemning the Mayor's indecision on holding election of Chairmen of MCC Standing Committees, Congress Corporators, supported by the City Congress Unit, staged a demonstration in front of the MCC main office here yesterday.

Congress Corporators, who were upset over the sudden postponement of Thursday's meeting to elect the Heads of MCC Standing Panels, raised slogans against Mayor Shivakumar and the ruling BJP and demanded that the election be held immediately.

Corporator Pallavi Begum said that in the absence of Heads of Standing Committees, the Corporators are unable to take up developmental works. Another Corporator Shobha Sunil said the Mayor should make public the reason behind the abrupt postponement of the election.

KPCC Spokesperson M. Lakshmana said that the BJP has no respect for democracy. Alleging that the BJP was for centralised power, he accused the BJP of subverting the democratic system by not holding polls for the Standing Committees.

Accusing JD(S) of being the B team of the BJP, Lakshmana warned of knocking the doors of the Court to seek superceding of the MCC if the Mayor failed to hold the elections in a week.

MCC Opposition Leader Ayub Khan charged Mayor Shivakumar of not following the principles of democracy. Accusing the Mayor of disregarding the Constitution, he claimed that the Mayor seems to be waiting for the enforcement of model code of conduct for the Assembly polls so that the polls can be deferred for long. The Council meeting was abruptly postponed as the Mayor found the Congress questions too hot to handle, Ayub Khan added.

Postponed: Meanwhile, the MCC General Council meeting, which was scheduled to take place on Friday, was also postponed as Mayor Shivakumar was unwell.

'Theatre is the ideal medium to develop confidence and several life skills'

Senior theatre artiste Rameshwari Verma inaugurates first College English Theatre Festival

Mysuru, Feb. 4 (NS)- Theatre is the ideal medium to develop confidence and several life skills and it is a source of immense joy, fulfilment, companionship. Every time you play a character, you need to get deeper into understanding the historical and geographical background too and this surely increases your knowledge, opined senior theatre artiste Rameshwari Verma.

She was speaking as the chief guest at the first 3-day College English Theatre Festival organised by Mysore English Theatre Forum (METF) a RamaGovinda Rangamandira in city last evening.

Lauding the efforts of the METF in promoting English Theatre in the city, she said today English is an integral part of us as we have become a part of the globalised world. Though Kannada Theatre is very active in Mysuru, English theatre is still to grow and such festivals will bridge the need and hopefully it will become popular like in the other metros, she said and added that learning English through theatre is a lot more easier.

Senior theatre artiste Rameshwari Verma (2nd from right) inaugurating METF's College English Theatre Festival at RamaGovinda Rangamandira in Ramakrishnanagar yesterday. Also seen are (from left) Festival Convenor Seemanthini B. Sharma, METF Founder-Member Dr. V.R. Anil Kumar and Festival Co-ordinator and retd. IAS Officer A.K. Monnappa.

Keeping with the vision of METF to 'Nurture and Grow', the festival was inaugurated by watering a sapling.

Dr. V.R. Anil Kumar, Founder-Member of METF, who spoke, said that now English has become an Indian language and art form has no language barriers and for many of us who are leading secluded lives any art form is a unifying factor.

Retd. IAS Officer A.K. Monnappa, who is also one of the Co-ordinators of METF, stressed the need for Drama Clubs in Colleges. Stating that theatre not only involves acting but a host of other skills, he said by organising activities in colleges, we can catch them young and promote talents.

Earlier, Dr. M.C. Manohara, Co-ordinator of METF, rendered the invocation. Seemanthini B. Sharma, Founder-Member of METF and Convenor of the Festival, welcomed. Six city Colleges are presenting plays during the festival and two plays were enacted on the inaugural evening.

'Dr. Faustus' by Night Glory

The first play was by Night Glory, a team of students from various colleges, who enacted 'Dr. Faustus.'

In this part of the original 16th century play, the very knowledgeable Dr. Faustus is lured to the Seven Deadly Sins by the devil Lucifer. Each of the Sins (Pride, Covetousness, Wrath, Envy, Gluttony, Sloth and Lechery) was appropriately enacted by the actors, trying to lure Dr. Faustus.

The devils, Lucifer and Mephistopheles, as well as Dr. Faustus, were quite convincing in their acting. Overall, a wonderfully directed 30-minute play, with attractive lighting and costumes.

'The Refund' by SDM-MMK

'The Refund' was the second play of the inaugural day, by the students of SDM-MMK College. The girls did a wonderful job of acting out this all-male character play. This humorous play tells the story of a man who goes back to his school to claim a refund of his fees, since he didn't learn anything at school! His teachers and the Principal decide to give him a re-examination and only if he fails this will he get his fee refund. Both student and teachers try to outwit each other.

The student tries hard to give the wrong answers each time, but the teachers always find a reason to prove that his answer is correct. He finally passes the examination in 'flying colours', and is therefore not entitled to a refund!

The play had the audience in splits and the enthusiasm of these College students was visible not only onstage but before and afterwards too. Kudos also to the efforts of their teachers and the support of the college.

Today, play 'Merchant of Venice' will be staged by CRESTA School of Management, Science and Arts at 5 pm and play 'One Dark Night' by University College of Fine Arts at 7 pm.

TATA Steel PGTI Qualifying School 2023 Golf, Kolkata

Mysuru-based Aryan registers a six-shot thumping victory

Kolkata, Feb. 4 (Agencies)- Mysuru-based amateur Aryan Roopa Anand carded a last round of two-under 68 to end up as the wire-to-wire winner with an impressive six-shot margin at a total of 20-under 260 at the Final Qualifying Stage of the TATA Steel PGTI Qualifying School 2023 held at the Tollygunge Club in Kolkata yesterday. His scores were 64-63-65-68.

Twenty-one-year-old Aryan thus became the first amateur in six years to win the PGTI Q School. The last amateur to win the Q School was Dhruv Sheoran in 2017. Faridabad's Karan Pratap Singh (68-65-65-68) finished as runner-up at 14-under 266 after he too returned a final round of 68.

The cut in the final round went at four over 284 with the top 34 players earning their full cards for the 2023 TATA Steel PGTI season. Among the six players tied at 32nd, the top three based on countback earned their full cards.

The top 34 included seven amateurs. There were also five foreigners (one each from Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, Nepal, USA and Canada) among the 34 players who earned their full cards.

Aryan Roopa Anand, the overnight leader by six shots who also led the field from the first round onwards, drove home the advantage in the fourth-round trading five birdies for a bogey and a double-bogey.

Aryan, currently the leading amateur in the country and two-time All India Amateur champion, had a slow start with an early bogey on the third but got back into his stride with birdies on the sixth, 10th, 13th, 16th and 17th that included two long conversions from a range of 20 to 30 feet. He finally crossed the line with a comfortable six-shot margin despite the double-bogey on the 18th hole.

Aryan said, "My win is a big morale booster. As I look to begin my professional journey, this victory gives me a taste of what it is like to be on top in a professional event. I came into this week with no expectations and just focused on consistency and shooting low scores. I had set certain targets for myself and I was competing against myself rather than anyone else."

"It was a week of clean hitting and even when I was not at my best, I managed to grind it out. I was very pleased with my scoring as the total of 20-under is my personal best at a tournament," he said.

"I would like to thank my team, family and friends for all their support over the years as that kept me in a good mental space," added Anand, who plays at the Karnataka Golf Association in Bengaluru and is coached by Tarun Sardesai.
